INTRODUCTION

- People often confuse the terms “manager” and “leader”, they are not the same thing although it is possible to be both.
- Similar but different outlook, skills and behaviour

INTRODUCTION

- Good managers strive to be good leaders and good leaders need management skills to be effective
- Leaders have vision, motivate and negotiate
- Managers ensure resources are well organised and applied to produce best results

INTRODUCTION – “LEADER”

- “A leader is a person who exerts influence over other people and inspires, motivates and directs their activities to help achieve group or organisational goals” Jones and George (2008)

INTRODUCTION – “MANAGER”

- A manager is “responsible for supervising and making the most of an organization’s human and other resources to achieve its goals” Jones and George (2008)
- Need skills to plan, organise and control
- Communicate tasks and expected results effectively
- Goal orientated and consist of a process that involves people
- Follow rules rather than innovative ideas

Introduction

Managers

- Administer and maintain
- Getting things done
- Control systems and structures and manage tasks
- Short-range view – eye on the bottom line
- Accept status quo and imitate
- Meet targets

Leaders

- Innovate and develop
- Create a vision
- Lead people and inspire trust and persuade to follow
- Long-range perspective – eye on the horizon
- Challenge status quo and originate
- Create targets
