In the “country report” session, participants from some countries presented their current situations of education, educational policies and issues that their home countries have and so on. After each presentation, we had a Q&A session. In the morning, the participants from Laos, Malawi, Mongolia and Myanmar presented their country report. Then, in the afternoon, participant from Nepal, Papua New Guinea, Uganda and Vietnam did. We could share and understand each current situations and issues of education.

In group discussion session, participants were divided into 4 groups and discussed issues that each group decided themselves. Some University students who listened to country reports also joined this discussion as a member of group. we could get a lot of and meaningful opinions. After 30 minute’s discussion, each group presented what they had discussed. We didn’t focus on “what” but “how” to approach issues in this discussion.
